

Outbound Partner Email Script

#1 New User

As more users work from home and Millennials keep requesting to use Apple devices, IT departments have been facing unique challenges when trying to support everyone equally.

XX has partnered with a new SaaS Apple device management platform called Addigy. To make monitoring, securing and deploying your Apple devices easier. Without the need to go through an expensive on-boarding, training or setup. Want to learn more before taking us up on a trial, watch the Addigy 3 minute demo: here

Ready to get moving, let's get a call scheduled with Addigy to show you the platform.

#2 Rip and replace

Now that everyone is working from home, IT departments have been facing unique challenges when trying to support everyone equally. Especially those using Apple devices

XX has partnered with a new SaaS Apple device management platform called Addigy. To make monitoring, securing and deploying your Apple devices easier and more affordable. Gone are the days of managing VPN, Firewalls or infrastructure as users move outside the office. Gone are the days of needing complicated training to build and maintain a bespoke management platform. You can swap out your current MDM for one that is built with modern technology in mind and doesn't come with on-premise limitations.

Want to learn more before engaging, watch the Addigy 3 minute demo: here

Ready to get moving, let's get a call scheduled with Addigy to show you the platform.

